BUILD EXPO GREECE: BUILDING SUCCESS TOGETHER

The huge success of last year's event made it clear that Build Expo Greece is the ultimate meeting point for the construction and building industry in the wider region.

On October 19-22, at Metropolitan Expo, Build Expo Greece, driven by the sector's recovery, the intense interest of the market and the constant need for the showcase of new products and technologies, opens again its gates. Its main goals are business networking and development, the extroversion of companies and the cooperation of the whole industry in Southeast Europe and East Mediterranean with Greece as the most important hub.

Build Expo Greece is the ideal business platform that encourages entrepreneurship, which offers modern tools to every professional looking for solutions and the most updated know-how, which creates opportunities for development and progress.

In the biggest event of the regional building and construction sector, all professionals will be present, because in Build Expo we build the future, we build success.

IN A WORLD THAT IS CHANGING, A FLEXIBLE PLATFORM IS NEEDED

Developments in the building and construction sector are continuous. The application of new technologies and practices, the need of the companies to present new innovative services and products in the market, as well as the growing need of professionals to be informed about every aspect and stage of the sector, demands the creation of a meeting point where all these factors converge.

In addition, modern developments and the announcement of new major public and private projects in the region highlight important areas of the industry such as energy efficiency and stable chains of production.

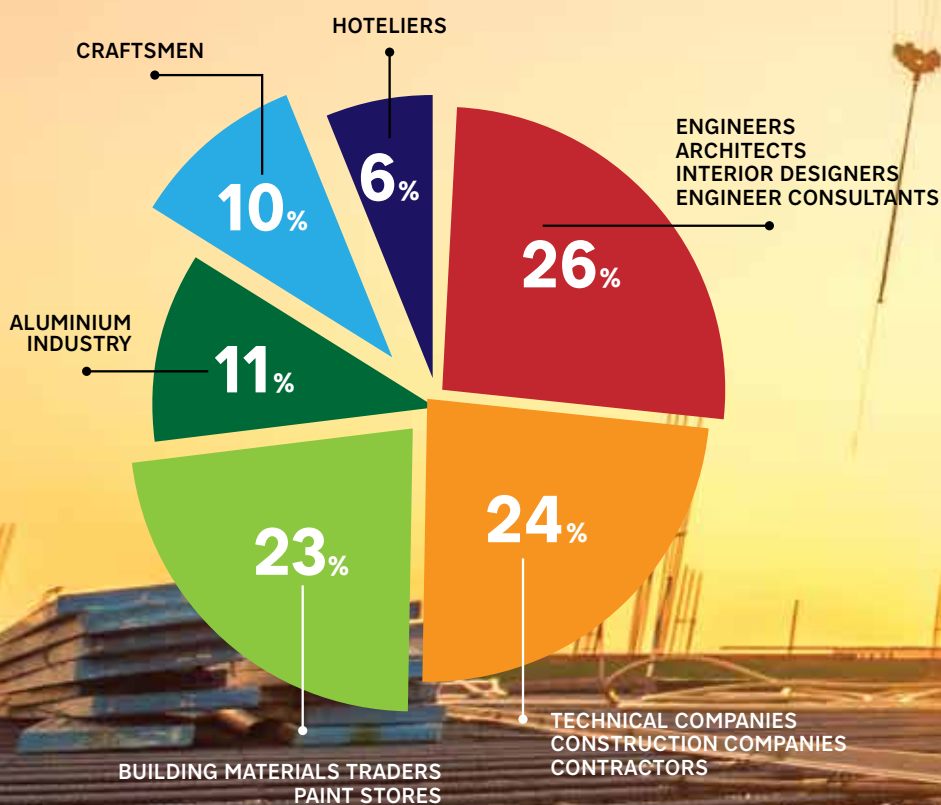

All the above render Build Expo Greece an important centre of business networking and expertise and an ideal platform for high-level business activity and growth.

CATEGORIES OF VISITORS IN BUILD EXPO GREECE 2022

A HIGHLY SPECIALISED EXHIBITION

Build Expo Greece is the dedicated exhibition for the construction sector bringing together a highly specialised target audience of professional such as engineers, architects, contractors, craftsmen and executives from domestic and international construction companies.

BUILD EXPO

EXHIBITORS AND EXHIBITING PRODUCTS

Modern building and constructions require the implementation of many different techniques and products, a fact which requires wide knowledge of the sector. For this reason, Build Expo Greece brings together every aspect of the building activity, offering comprehensive solutions for the demanding professional, who wants to be in control at every stage of his work.

Highlighting the solutions of the future, Build Expo Greece presents an integrated range of building products, materials, systems and services, renovation, management and operation of buildings for private, professional or public use.

Presenting innovative techniques and new technologies in services and building materials, the exhibition pioneers the upgrading of the construction industry and is an international point of exchange of know-how and development.

WHY SHOULD YOU PARTICIPATE

* The exhibition is the most important meeting point for the building and construction industry, presenting all new products and services.

* Build Expo is the only exhibition in Greece and the most important in the region that is specialised in the building industry and construction.

* The exhibition is a pole of attraction for architects, engineers, technical and design offices and decorators. By participating in the exhibition you have the opportunity to meet the professionals who design and curate the projects.

* The specialised events by associations and renowned professionals that will take place along with the exhibition offer valuable information and training on the new trends and new technology.

* The increasing attendance of international companies and buyers from the countries of the wider region gives to the exhibiting companies the opportunity to increase their exporting productivity and to adopt an extrovert mentality.

INTERNATIONAL BUYERS

Build Expo Greece, responding to the reality of the modern era and the need for international cooperation between the companies of the construction sector, invests in its international character and in its role as an ideal platform for the development of business activity in the wider region. By capitalising on its reputation throughout the regional market but, at the same time, implementing an extensive information and promotion campaign, the exhibition opens up even more to major construction companies from South-Eastern Europe and the Eastern Mediterranean, as well as from other regions of great market importance.

Thus, Build Expo Greece becomes an important meeting point of business opportunities and collaborations, while its exhibitors become part of an international business network, increase their export activity and strengthen their presence in the market, taking advantage of the possibilities provided by the exhibition.
