VIETNAM FOODEXPO

Gateway to VIETNAM
An EMERGING GLOBAL FOOD POWERHOUSE

Vietnam is a country blessed with a diverse, rich and fertile environment, resulting in an abundant and varied supply of agricultural products.

In recent years, Vietnam has been through a silent revolution: it has transformed from a regional agricultural producer to a global food powerhouse. It has become a country with a modern and innovative food industry, dominant in various important product segments. It is the home of global food companies and national champions and is a country with a growing and dynamic food and beverage processing sector.

A woman with dark hair and glasses is looking at a product display. The background shows various food items, including what appears to be a large orange or fruit. The scene is set at a trade show or exhibition.

VISITORS TESTIMONIAL

Mr. David Johnson Sister City Committee (SF-HCMC)

“There are many high quality food products in Vietnam. Our customers in the US are showing a great interest in the food products here. That’s the reason why we have come to Vietnam Foodexpo and sought for Vietnamese products that are certified by USDA for import.

Mr. M.Nizwer Cader Importer from Sri Lanka

“This is my second time I’ve visited Vietnam Foodexpo and I have found many organic agricultural products that meet my requirement, such as organic rice. There are some exhibitors showcasing top-notch organic rice products of different kinds. As they are all professional exporters, getting down to business with them is quick and effective.”

Mr. Nahom Garti Vascorp Company (France)

“I have attended many food shows in Asia and I believe that Vietnam Foodexpo is a regional level exhibition, which is very professional. I have found a lot of dried products of my interests here at the Show.”
